Overview |

The European Union, together with its Member States, makes efforts for the development of quality school education and tries to create a feasible format for promoting collaboration on various issues of shared concern. Actual initiatives envisage a series of directions that target (as examples) Pathways to School Success, Key competencies and basic skills, Early school leaving, Quality assurance or Well-being at school.

In this respect, the Workshop tries to emphasize the results of several educational projects, dedicated to different levels of education, organized and implemented through collaboration embracing the format of European partnerships. At the same time, opportunities for teachers' continuous professional development are introduced, mostly considering the funding offered by Romania's National Plan for Recovery and Resilience (NRRP). During the workshop, five interventions constitute the support of presentations and discussions: Speaker | Mirela Cristina NEGREANU - *Lect. WORKSHOP

Adapting Participatory Methods to Open Schooling: Open-Ended Scenarios Focused on Actual Challenges

Valahia University from Targoviste, Romania onsite event

Onsite Workshop #2 Venue | Scientific and Technological Institute of Multidisciplinary Research of Valahia	Workshop Title | Adapting Participatory Methods to Open Schooling: Open-Ended Scenarios Focused on Actual Challenges Main Organizer Institution | "Valahia" University of Târgoviște, Romania, Teacher Training Department Co-organizers | LUMEN Research Center in

University Targoviste, Romania Monday, November 21st 2022 18:00 – 19:40 GMT+2 (Bucharest time) Chair | Mihai BÎZOI, Assoc. Prof. PhD, Valahia University of Târgoviște | ROMANIA Timing | 100 minutes session	Social & Humanistic Sciences, Romania Overview | Description: Schools return to the middle of their communities as a vector of knowledge, responsibility, and well-being spreading. In this sense, the school becomes "open", and activates participatory methods in order to raise awareness and engage actors in school life and community issues. In the frame of the Horizon 2020 Project: "CONNECT - Inclusive open schooling through engaging and future-oriented science", a new format for introducing participatory methods to open schooling is encouraged. Embracing the CONNECT CARE-KNOW-DO framework, open-ended scenarios are designed to determine students to use the knowledge gathered with scientific methods when dealing with the local challenges they are working with, but also in strong interaction with scientists. In essence, the scope is to introduce students to participatory methods that help them assess problems and solutions, and take decisions based on scientific evidence, together with evidence acquired from their experiential knowledge. Taking into account the abovementioned remarks, the Workshop intends to present the philosophy of the open-ended scenario, offer several examples, and identify actual challenges faced by communities, which are relevant and important for being understood and scientifically explored by students and their families. One presentation constitutes support for discussions: Speakers| Ana Maria Aurelia PETRESCU - Assoc. Prof. PhD, Valahia University of Târgoviște, Romania & Laura Monica GORGHIU - Assoc. Prof. PhD, Valahia University of Târgoviște, Romania Speech title | Open-Ended Scenarios - An Innovative Way of Approaching Scientific Problems Participants | All interested educational actors and responsible members of communities are welcome to participate in the workshop
